

Olivia Reed
Ms. Jeffers
Creative Writing
October 2, 2020

“Be Enough”

These days have been filled with so much happiness.
They are also dangerous,
So don't let me fool you.
Will I ever be good enough anymore?
I'm always mad and very jealous.
The things we do are what we will live for.

What am I good for?
Sometimes I find myself with just no happiness.
I'm so jealous
Which can be very dangerous.
Some things just aren't together anymore.
My days are not all about you.

Myself is not focused on you.
Sometime, I will find out what I'm good for.
I have no confidence anymore,
Which makes me end without happiness.
That could be very self harming and dangerous.
I'm just hoping to not end up jealous.

Most people don't think I'm jealous.
Do you?
Relationships make me dangerous.
These, I just don't have much time for.
A boy just doesn't even think to look anymore.
So I just don't seek happiness.

Boys just don't interest me anymore.
I have stopped trying to be jealous,
And stopped wondering what is happiness?
Things are great without you.
That is what I am down for.
Because if I try anymore, it will be dangerous.

Some relationships seem so unhealthy and dangerous,
Why would you want that to be you anymore?
What good is that for?
You shouldn't become so jealous.
People will ask "What was that for?"
Just find your own way of happiness.

Things may be for the good because it's dangerous.
Sometimes there may not be happiness anymore.
Being jealous will only hurt you.